

For immediate release

San Diego Dentist Named in Consumer Guide As One of America's Top Dentists

San Diego – Paul C. Davis, D.D.S., a cosmetic and restorative dentist located here, has been named one of America's best dentists by Washington, D.C.-based Consumers' Research Council's in their 2005-2006 consumer reference manual, "Guide to America's Top Dentists." The research-based organization compiles consumer reference directories using an impartial point value system for criteria in four areas: experience, training, board certification and professional association memberships. CRC does not accept fees, donations, sponsorships or advertising from individuals or organizations.

"We have worked diligently to attain and maintain the kind of education needed to continually stay at the forefront of the exciting fields of cosmetic and implant dentistry and are honored to be included in the guide," Dr. Davis said. "We are in good company to be designated in the top percentile of dentists nationwide."

Designed to assist consumers in selecting dentists based on objective criteria derived from independent analysis, the "Guide to America's Best Dentists" is published to "help educate and assist consumers in obtaining the finest professional services," according to CRC. The guide also includes consumer information about dental disease, prevention and procedures, as well as tips on dental hygiene and how to find and choose a dentist or dental specialist.

Dr. Davis, who has practiced in San Diego for more than 25 years, is a leader in cosmetic and implant dentistry. A member of the American Academy of Cosmetic Dentistry, he is co-founder of both the San Diego Dental Implant Group and the Rancho Santa Fe Dental Implant Study Group. He is a director of the Summit Dental Study Center and belongs to professional organizations such as the prestigious Academy of Osseointegration (implant dentistry) and the Academy of General Dentistry. A graduate of Wittenberg University, Dr. Davis received his dental degree from The Ohio State University. During two years in the U.S. Navy, he received extensive training in oral surgery, endodontics and restorative dentistry and opened a private practice in San Diego.

(more)

---

Dr. Davis Named Best 2-2-2-2-2

In his cosmetic dentistry practice, Dr. Davis works closely with DaVinci Dental Studio, the laboratory which carefully crafts porcelain veneers to his stringent specifications and exacting standards. DaVinci is best known for its showcase work seen on television shows, Extreme Makeover and The Swan.

In addition to technical proficiency and artistry, Dr. Davis says his practice is dedicated to compassionate service and individualized care with high standards of integrity. "We really value the trust our patients place in us and we strive to provide excellent dental care with compassion, serving the needs of the whole person," he said.

# #

Photo available

For more information, contact:

Sally Romoser (858) 442-6416

sromoser@san.rr.com